OVERVIEW

At Palantir, we build agile solutions for data-driven operations and decision-making. Launching in the intelligence and defense spaces by assisting the United States in counter-terrorism investigations and operations, we have a proud tradition of providing cutting-edge technology to the United States, Allied, and Partner forces.

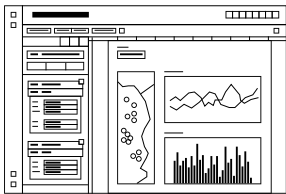

Today, our government partnerships continue to address some of the most difficult data and integration challenges and deliver meaningful outcomes on accelerated timelines. With Palantir, users can rapidly turn mountains of disconnected data into actionable intelligence and plans of action with the following capabilities:

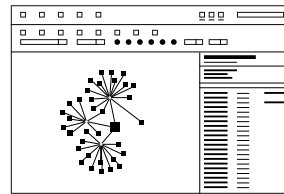

Data Integration, Management, & Security

Analytics, Modeling, & Exploration

Investigative & Case Management Applications

Operational Decision-Making Applications
